INDIRECT LOGIN ACCOUNT GUIDELINE

1. Introduction

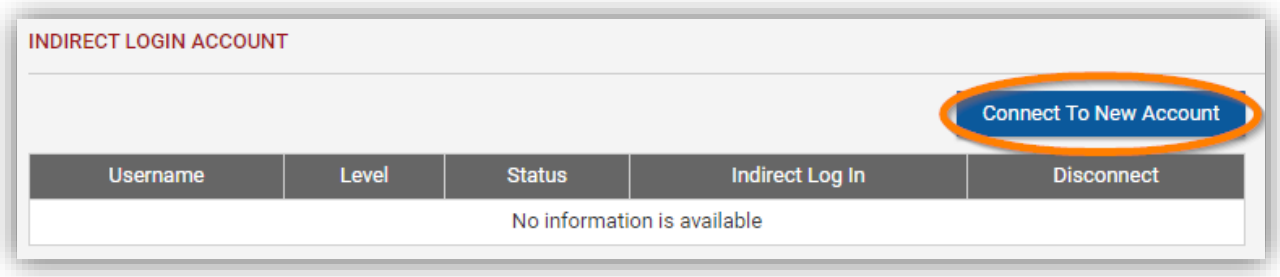

We are delighted to announce the launch of the new "Indirect Login Account" (ILA) function. To help you efficiently manage multiple accounts, the function enables you to indirectly access multiple downline accounts from a single place.

2. Instruction

Step 1: Go to Member Information > Indirect Login Account.

Step 2: Click Connect To New Account.

(Note: if it is the first use of the session, you will be asked to enter the security code.)

- Fill in the downline account information and click Connect:

(Warning: if you input the wrong password 6 times, the downline account will be closed.)

- When successfully connected, you will see the following message:

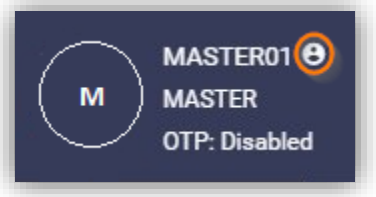

- A few notes when connecting to accounts:
  - You can ONLY connect to your downline account (except your Member account).
  - You cannot connect to the invalid, disabled, or closed account.
  - You cannot connect to your current primary account or sub-account.
  - The connected account will be saved. You do not have to re-enter them next time.

Step 3: Click Indirect Log In :

(Note: you can disconnect an account by clicking Disconnect .)

- Next, you will see the Home page of the account that you indirectly log in to. The icon will appear next to the account name to indicate that you are using the ILA feature:

- You might see the different pages in the following cases:
  - For the first-time login, you will be asked to change your password, create security code, and nickname.
  - If the password is expired, you will be asked to change the password.

3. Notes

- You can only indirectly log in to 1 downline account at a time. If you indirectly log in to another downline account, the previous one will be logged out.
- You will have the same permissions as the downline account that you indirectly log in to.
- Similar to the direct login session, your actions are recorded in the Setting Log and the Login Log during the indirect login session.
